

Millenaris Park Building C

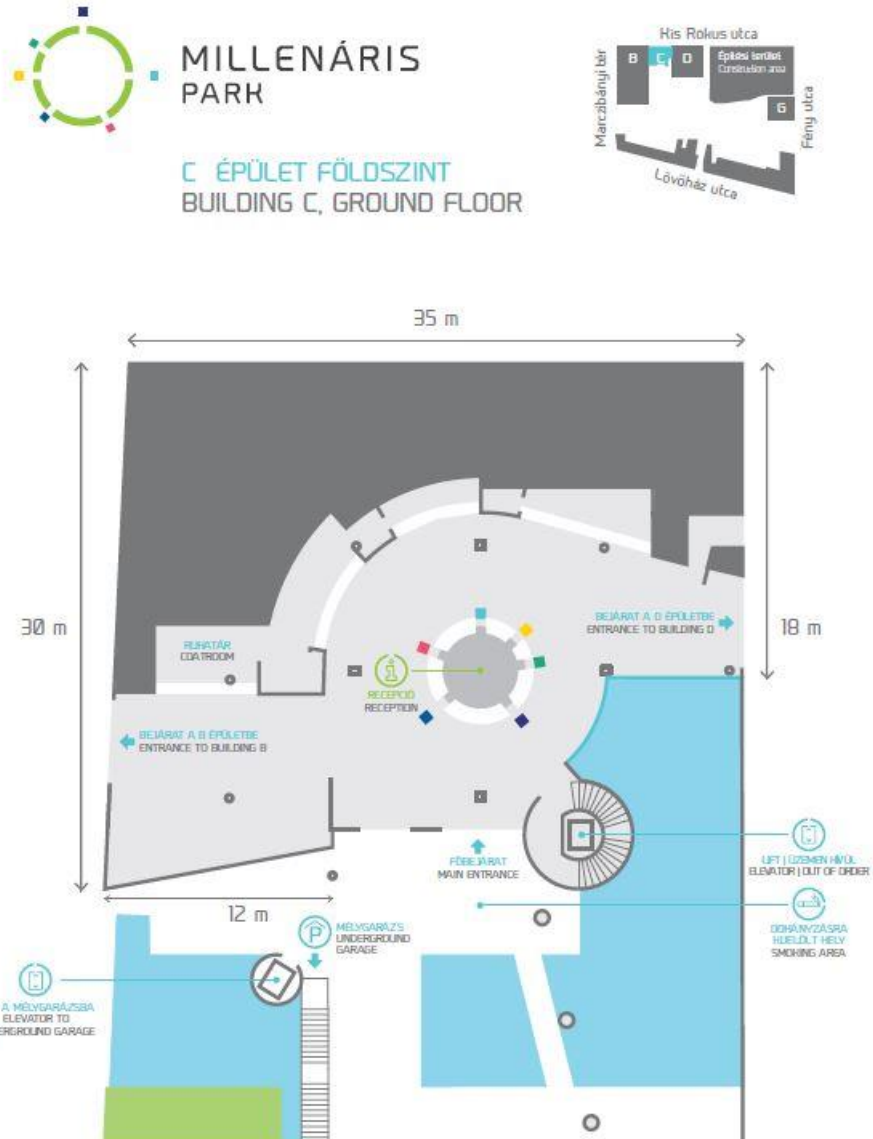

Pixel Gallery (Building C) features a spiral layout similar to that of the Guggenheim Museum in New York with its generous, vibrant interior, its foyer, its reception area, and its multi-level interconnectors in halls B and D, however due to its modern design, it can also serve as an event venue and an independent exhibition space.

The upper floor with a spiral layout is equipped with a plasma screen, projector system, a modern lighting system and is used to host media and fine arts exhibitions related to the theme of the House of the Future. The ground floor area of the Kerengő Gallery is 332 square meters.
